Gerald Wiz

AI Anthropologist

Fact-checked by Mr. Nimbus, Meta's Muse.

Nineteen years in counter-terrorism. Ten years as a licensed broker. One lens: how humans behave under pressure -- and what that means for risk.

WHAT I DO

I brief decision-makers on converging risks the standard models miss: economic fragility, institutional trust, AI disruption, and geopolitical flashpoints -- analyzed the way an anthropologist reads a culture, not the way a spreadsheet reads a quarter.

SIGNATURE TOPICS

- Converging Risks Could Defeat the Old Crisis Playbook -- the tail-risk stack: $40T federal debt, Treasury market stress, dollar confidence, AI investment bubble, oil-supply exposure, simultaneous conflict scenarios.
- The Anthropology of AI -- what happens when institutions meet machine intelligence; trust, deception, and adaptation.
- Lessons from 19 Years Inside Terrorist Networks -- undercover CT work: how closed groups think, recruit, and break -- and what that teaches about organizational blind spots.
- Reading the Crowd -- markets as culture: sentiment, narrative contagion, and why the consensus is usually wrong at the turn.

FORMATS & INVESTMENT

- Keynote / Briefing -- from $5,000
- Executive workshop (half/full day) -- from $7,500
- Private staff briefing -- from $2,500
- Research & white papers -- from $5,000
- Advisory retainer -- from $3,000/month

Travel billed at cost. Virtual delivery available at reduced rates.

BACKGROUND

- Anthropologist, Michigan State University '99
- 19 years counter-terrorism analysis, including undercover work inside terrorist chat rooms
- 10 years licensed stockbroker (Series 7 & 3)
- Author of 4,210-post open-source intelligence archive (2001-2023)

CONTACT

Gerald Wiz

InternetAnthropologisttt@gmail.com